

Telephone and fax, mail and email solicitations need to be outlawed entirely. I have my right to privacy individuals rights should out way business rights. All of these solicitation methods are wastes of time, wastes of money, and wastes of resources.

Telephone Solicitation is just plain rude. No one wants to be bothered by pushy telemarketers after a hard day of work no matter what hour it is. Especially when there doing crap like calling multiple people and connecting to the first one that calls and hanging up on the rest. You can deny this happens but it does.

Fax Solicitations are the most immoral of all the only expense to the company is there fax machine and phone line. They eat up companies materials so it ends up costing the people getting harassed money to get information they just throw in the trash. Also Fax marketing companies often fax out at night when no one would be in the office. This sucks ass when the number they have is a residential number like mine. I have been called 6 times today buy the same god damned fax machine and the phone companies not there for me to block the number. I have had fax calls at all hours of the night. Calls come in every 30 minutes One night causing me to have to take a sick day from work because I didn't get any sleep. How does this benefit society in any way?

Mail Solicitation is just Plain wrong How can a government say they are even concerned with the environment and let this happen. Mail solicitors work with an attitude that if say 1-50 people respond to your add that they have covered there costs. Innocent trees died for there cause. When I lived in an apt complex every day when I would get home at 5 there 40 gallon garbage can would be over flowing with discarded junk mail that is in no way beneficial to society.

Email solicitation, while the most economically and environmentally efficient has got to stop. I receive upwards of 45 spams a day at my work email address that I do not give out to anyone but clients or companies that require we register our software and my friends. Yet for some reason I get emails saying that I visited there site and authorized them to send me there garbage... WHAT A CROCK OF SH!T I have received everything from kiddy porn to home finance info, from black market information to insurance offers. Some of these things could get people fired. This in no way benefits society.

If these business are such honest business why is it so hard to opt out of receiving there propaganda.
